

FIRE-RATED DOORS

Reliable fire-rated doors combining safety, durability, and refined design.

FIRE-RATED

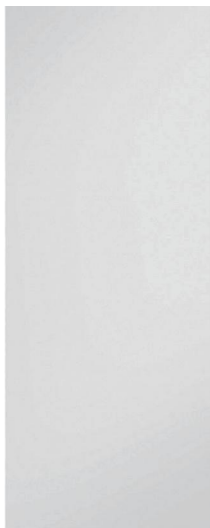

We offer a wide range of fire-rated doors, including 20-minute rated wood options, thoughtfully designed to match seamlessly with other interior doors for a cohesive look. These doors comply with strict fire safety standards, making them ideal for residential and light commercial use. Combining reliable protection with refined aesthetics, they help ensure your space remains both secure and stylish.

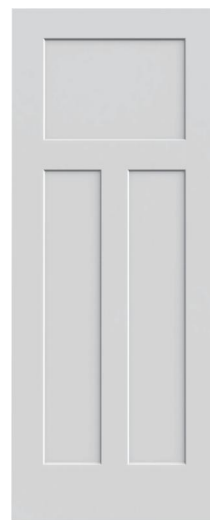

Each door is crafted with precision to maintain structural integrity under high temperatures, while offering a variety of styles and finishes to suit different interior themes. Whether you're prioritizing safety, appearance, or both, our fire-rated doors deliver dependable performance without compromising on design.

*Engineered for safety, style, and seamless coordination with interior doors—our fire-rated doors deliver protection without compromising on design.
